

SERVING THE LYME COMMUNITY FOR OVER 100 YEARS

THE LYME SCHOOL

Newsletter

New Arrivals!

Next week Heather Stadheim will be joining our Middle School faculty as Lauren Chomko will begin her maternity leave on the 11th. Heather will be teaching Language Arts and Humanities. Heather is of course no stranger to the Lyme School as she has taught here in the past, as well as being the mother of Lyme School students.

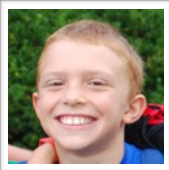

Lauren and her husband, Danny, are expecting their second child, a boy, in the next few weeks. Lauren and Danny have a daughter, Lilliana, who not only is a beautiful daughter, but will now be a devoted sister. Lauren is looking forward to this next step in her family's life and also will "miss the kids and [her] colleagues, and promise[s] to come back and visit with the baby!"

Budgets In the News

While we are much prouder to be in the news for the great things happening at the school, we recognize that budgets can be of interest to newspapers as well. For those that have called to ask questions about the budget and the discussion of Kindergarten, please join us on Thursday (tonight if I get this done soon). The school budget and the discussion of kindergarten will only take place during the School budget meeting and will only be voted on by those present at the meeting. We have some significant issues to wrestle with as a community that will impact the kind of school we can be. Regardless of how you feel on these issues the only way you can play a role in what is decided is by participating.

School Budget Meeting

Despite a significant effort to arrange child care at the school, efforts have thus far fallen through. If this changes an email notice will be sent out.

Are you a high school student, or know one, who wants to work on trails and have fun in the outdoors this summer? If so, come join the Upper Valley High School Trail Corps this summer . Applications due May 1.

Brochure and application can be found at www.uvtrails.org.

Have you moved to the Upper Valley in the past few years? Are you interested in getting to know the community? If so, you are invited to a gathering at the Montshire Museum of Science to meet one another, enjoy family-friendly refreshments, and learn more about the Museum. Sunday, March 6, 3-4:30 p.m. in the Museum's Community Room, 1 Montshire Road, Norwich, VT.

802-649-2200.

Pre-register at Montshire Museum: New Family Social <http://www.montshire.org/programs/detail/new-family-social>

LYME DRAMA CLUB PRESENTS:

MARCH 31, APRIL 1 & 2 • 7:30 PM

The students of Valley Dale High School want to stage a battle of the bands between the girls' band, Flower Power, and the boys' band, Peter, Paul, and Harry. When their request is denied, they try to get a permit at the city park by claiming it's a fundraiser for their Hug-a-Tree foundation. When they are shut down again, Ole MacDonald's farm comes to their rescue if they agree to produce the Cornstalk Music Festival. Throngs of people begin to arrive, including Big Mama's Bikers, who try to destroy everything. When The Kooks, a top British rock group, arrive on the scene, everything goes wild!
